Census Shift To Change U. S. Political Situation

Rural Vote Will Be In Minority for First Time in Nation's History; Trend of Population to Cities Continues on Increase.

WASHINGTON, July 31 — The most pronounced shift in population from country to town and city in the nation's history will be shown in the 1930 census, it was predicted today on the basis of preliminary returns to the census bureau.

The official figures will not only reveal with accuracy a trend that has been apparent with rapid industrialization of the United States in the last decade, but they will have an important bearing on the nation's future political history.

Election Change

The census will not only be a basis for reapportionment of the national house of representatives, but it also will mean a change in the electoral college, which equals membership in congress, and will force realignment of state legislative districts.

The ratio of urban and rural population may reach 60-40 in the 1930 census—60 percent of the people living in urban centers, classed as towns of 2,500 or more, to 40 percent in the country.

During almost the entire history of the nation the "farm vote" of the nation has been supreme. In 1920 the census showed that for the first time more than one-half the people lived in urban centers. But since no reapportionment of the national house was made on this basis, there was no change in the electoral college nor generally in state legislatures.

Epochal Development

The result is, therefore, that after the impending realignment of political representation, the rural vote will be in the minority for the first time since the nation was founded.

The census, it appears upon incomplete figures, will show more than 21 percent of the entire population living in large cities. Approximately 10 percent will be shown to live in New York, Chicago and Philadelphia alone.

Callouses Too

Out to stay out—selling like hot cakes in Great Britain and now in America—the pleasant, easy way to get rid of corns—a joyous, refreshing invigorating foot bath for 3 or 4 nights and then lift out the corn—roots and all.

They call this miracle worker Radox and since it has been working wonders with the bad feet of the tight little Isles—plasters and acids, cutting and skin destroying liquid belong to the dark ages.

It's the modern way—the sensible way to take out corns—to dissolve the hard skin from heels and toes and to put your feet in good vigorous condition so that you can walk and run and jump and dance with ease and pleasure.

Just ask for a box of Radox at Bradley's Drug Store or any modern druggistore—you'll be delighted.—Adv.

The Stars Say—

For Friday, Aug 1.

The lunar transits for this day must be read as somewhat conflicting, the luminaries being in malefic aspect while other powerful planets are under most benignant sway. While the general trend of events is most favorable, with all situations moving toward desired ends, accompanied by increase of money, favors and advancement, yet employment may be a matter of concern or disappointment.

Those whose birthday it is may look for a year of growth, with success and gain in many directions, with advancement toward desired ambitions and returns for hard work and industry, but there may be some moments of anxiety or dissatisfaction in the employment of others. New projects and finances should flourish. A child born on this day may be genial, popular, talented and industrious and should be generally fortunate and happy in life.

WHEAT SUPPLY TO EQUAL LAST YEAR'S

Wrld Outlook Summarized in Statement of Federal Department.

By International News Service

WASHINGTON, July 31—While the federal farm board is struggling with the problem of declining wheat prices and is assailed for its inability to stabilize prices, the department of agriculture announced today indications were that the world supply of wheat for the 1930-31 season probably would be the same as it was last year.

There is a possibility, however, that it might be 100,000,000 bushels in excess if yields in the southern hemisphere, which cannot now be forecast, should be about average instead of low, as they were last year.

As the carry over from last season is about 100,000,000 bushels less than a year ago, this decrease would offset the increase in the crop.

Prices of cash wheat in the United States are now about 50 cents a bushel lower than they were a year ago, and these low prices will tend to stimulate the use of wheat for food and in many countries to increase human consumption. Increased consumption is likely to be augmented by improvement in business conditions, the report said.

"With total supplies about equal to those of last year, increases in consumption would further reduce the world carry over," the report said. "World trade of the coming year will probably be increased not only by augmented consumption, but also through importing countries building up their stock.

MRS. LONGWORTH IN ILLINOIS CAMPAIGN

Roosevelt Fighting Spirit In Evidence as She Plans To Help Old Friend.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 31 — The political genius of Alice Roosevelt Longworth will have to be reckoned with in the Illinois senatorial combat this fall for Teddy Roosevelt's daughter will be more than a spectator in the battle between Ruth Hanna McCormick and J. Hamilton Lewis.

Mrs. Longworth, now in Jamestown, R. I., said she probably would be in Illinois before the November election. So active has Mrs. Longworth been already behind the stage of her friend's campaign, it was rumored in the capital she would take the stump for Mrs. McCormick toward the close of the contest. Though she denied this definitely, she is expected to sit in on the councils of war.

Her presence in the McCormick camp will signalize that the Roosevelt spirit is in active fighting mood. Mrs. Longworth's preference in her lifelong rule of keeping off the open battleground of politics is itself a bit of testimony to her inheritance of political acumen. Perhaps there is no one who senses this more keenly than Candidate McCormick.

The two women's association dates unbroken back to the Roosevelt regime, when the then "Princess" Alice and youthful Ruth Hanna played croquet on the White House lawn. They were girlhood chums.

Workers Pass Half Way Mark in Building U. S. Airship Akron, To Surpass R-100

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 31—As the world's largest dirigible forced her way across the Atlantic, workmen had passed the half-way mark in the construction of a United States airship larger even than the R-100.

Since aeronautical experts hold nearly every lighter-than-air ship is obsolete by the time it flies, development of the navy's ZRS-4 may make the R-100 an out-dated craft.

Besides being nearly one-third larger than the British dirigible, the American ship, named the Akron, will incorporate half a dozen revolutionary features designed to increase its effectiveness. Where the R-100 holds only 5,150,000 cubic feet of gas, the Akron will hold 6,500,000. The Akron will be 785 feet long as contrasted with the R-100's 709-foot length.

Cruising Area Larger

The R-100 has cruising radius of about 6,000 miles, but the Akron will be able to fly 10,500 without refueling.

In the Akron, for the first time, there will be an airplane hangar, housing five fast fighting planes for scouting or protective purposes.

Because inflamable hydrogen is the lifting gas in the R-100, the British dirigible's motors must be hung outside the hull of the ship. Eight motors, with shafts running to propellors outside, will be inside the hull of the helium-inflated Akron. These propellors will have a swivel arrangement so they may be used to either push or pull, raise or lower the big gas bag.

For the first time a United States dirigible will carry guns when the Akron takes flight. It will be equipped to carry sixteen .50-calibre machine guns. The average machine gun fires bullets of only .30 calibre.

Will Observe Landing

While American naval officials feel the Akron will be more modern than the R-100, Lieut. Commander Charles E. Rosendahl, a former commander of Los Angeles, planned to leave Washington in time to watch the Montreal ground crew handle the British ship. A new mooring mast there more than 200 feet high, or 30 feet taller than any in the United States, was to be used.

The Akron is scheduled for completion by next June at a cost of $7,375,000, while a sister ship, the ZRS-5, costing $2,150,000, probably will be finished in the latter part of next year.

Living Too High.

Mr. James B. Bolander's recent communication to the Star, in which he suggested cutting wages in two as a means of doing away with unemployment and getting back to normal conditions, has attracted much attention locally and become the subject for many discussions.

It is the impression of this paper that neither Mr. Bolander nor any of the opponents of his view, that high wages are responsible for unemployment, has reached the real cause of present-day conditions. As we see the situation, it is due less to the scale of wages than the scale of living. The most of us, whether workers by the hour, the day or the month, have been living too high, and this applies alike to wage-earners and those holding salaried positions. We have been living beyond our means, sacrificing the future for the present. Many of us, probably the most of us, have been mortgaging the future for the enjoyment of the present. We have been receiving high pay, but we have obligated ourselves to pay out as much and sometimes more than we receive. Many a man, many a family, has arranged to make monthly payments, which, were they met, would leave but little for household expenses, and many have actually obligated themselves to pay beyond their earnings. The process has continued until an impasse has been reached. It is no longer possible for us to obligate ourselves further. The result is that we have stopped buying other than the absolute necessities and this has lessened the demand all up and down the commercial line with a consequent effect on the industrial situation, which is in return reflected in all lines.

The situation is not one impossible of solution. Similar situations have been met before and been solved, and this one will be. Similar situations in the past have resulted from over-expenditure, and they have been solved by retrenchment, and by retrenchment the present is being solved. It will take time, it always has, but in time a readjustment will be worked.

Our Merchant Marine in 1929.

Considering the fact that our merchant marine has been developed within the last ten years, it probably may be said to have done very well during the year, 1929, in holding its business in competition for the cargoes of the foreign commerce of the United States, carrying almost thirty-three per cent. of the total tonnage leaving and entering our ports. The carrying charges for the transportation of passengers and freight of the entire water borne foreign trade of the country for the year is estimated at $1,100,000,000, just about $100,000,000 more than that of the preceding year.

The annual shipping survey for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1930, shows that 1,833 American ships of an aggregate gross tonnage of almost 5,000,000 were responsible for 23,088 of the 59,585 entrances and clearances made through our ports during the year, which means a little more than thirty-eight per cent. of the total.

The percentage of the total cargo tonnage carried under the American flag in 1929 was practically the same as in 1928, although there was an increased total tonnage carried by all vessels of over 11,000,000 long tons.

The gross tonnage of all vessels engaged in transporting the 1929 business of the United States was 21,400,000, an increase of six per cent. over that of the preceding year, while the 7,961,000 gross tons of American flag vessels participating was almost seven per cent. greater than that of the year, 1928.

The fact that thirty-three per cent. of the water borne foreign trade of the United States was carried by American flag is seemingly held encouraging in American shipping circles, and the further fact that thirty-eight per cent. of American port clearances and entrances were made by American vessels shows the very appreciable extent to which our merchant marine has been developed in recent years, but the situation will not be what it should be until Americans as a people patronize American vessels in traveling and not only ship their exports in them, but also insist that the goods they buy abroad be transported in American bottoms.

That's the British method of maintaining the business of their merchant marine and long has been, and the fact that their merchant marine holds a paramount place on the seas of the world today is evidence of the worth of the method. If British insistence thus works to aid British shipping, why should Americans hesitate about employing like insistence to work to the benefit of vessels flying the American flag?

Chinese reds numboring over 10,000 looted and burned Changsha, the capital of Hunan province, a city with a population of over 500,000. Their course, were all else lacking, would proclaim them reds.

And now a Philadelphia night club entertainer threatens a bigamy action against William Watkins, the Chicago father of mixed baby fame, charging that he remarried without divorcing her—a charge denied by him. It's a mighty cold day when a chance for publicity is overlooked in this age.

New Yorkers Shocked.

The full enormity of Mr. Warren Delano Robbins' planting against the tenets of taste in dress, which threw such a shock recently into those New Yorkers who supposedly accept Mayor Jimmy Walker as the supreme authority on men's wear, has just come to us.

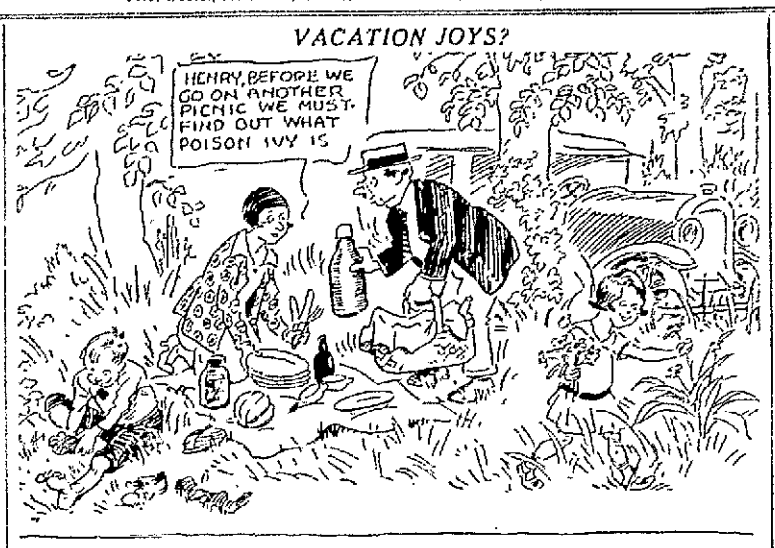
Mr. Robbins, who is ceremonial officer at the White House as well as our minister to San Salvador, was pictured in the papers in what is accepted in Washington as formal morning dress, but his raiment fell far short of what New York's nifty dressers hold is sartorial excellence.

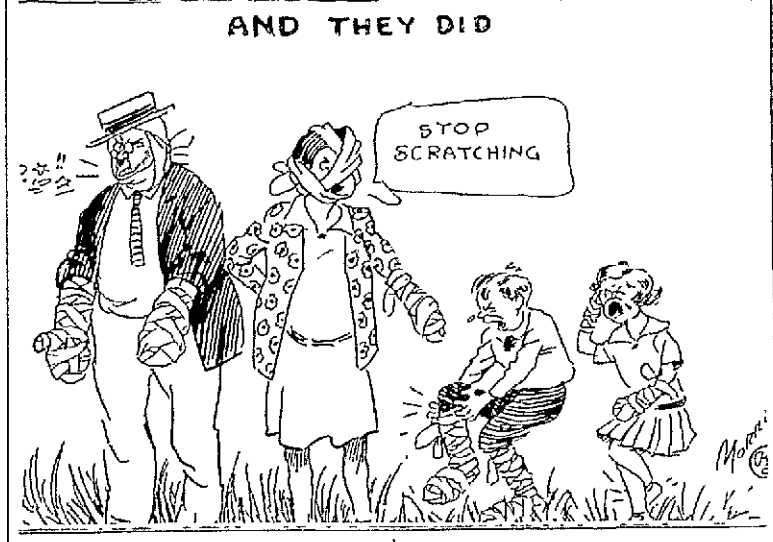
From the description carried in a New York story we learn that he didn't wear a high hat. The New York demand is for a high hat cocked on the head much after the style followed by a participant in a cakewalk. His collar was on the border line and his cravat was impossible. The gray trousers he wore with his morning coat were without stripes and were equipped with cuffs, as we refer to them out here in the garden spot of the world. And—horror of horrors!—he didn't wear spats. He may have been guilty of other alleged offenses, but these are enough to demonstrate to the New Yorkers incapable of doing their own thinking on the subject of dress that Mr. Robbins is wholly "without."

Cuffed trousers worn with a morning coat may appear to some of us as something of a departure from the normal, but it's well to remember that Mr. Robbins saw fit to wear them and that it's his affair, not ours. But questioning the omission of spats is something of a joke. Spats have been "out" for some time so far as our diplomatic service is concerned, being held not only unnecessary, but utterly out of line with that simplicity which should mark the attire of representatives of our form of government. And anyway, spats must ever rest under the suspicion that they are children of the days when most men wore high shoes to keep their ankles warm and were the makeshifts adopted for the same purpose by those whose footwear was limited to one pair of shoes, and those the low ones which now go by the name of Oxfords.

Since the slaying of Radio Announcer Buckley, the Detroit police have raided scores of speakeasies, breweries and gambling places, forty-two of such places having been added to the score in one day this week. Are we to assume that the Detroit police were unaware of the operation of such joints previous to the killing?

Miss Gertrude Ederle denies the story that she has lost her hearing as the result of her Channel swim and regrets ever having performed the feat. The sad phase of the thing is that Gertrude is no longer in vaudeville, but acting as hostess and instructress at the Westchester county park commission's Playland baths near Rye, New York, and that the great publicity given the interview repudiated by her is worse than useless.





In Case of Snake Bite.

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

Comparatively few persons are bitten by snakes in North America for the reason that most people avoid their haunts. The regions in the United States where dangerous snakes are known to the public, and in such places the public is generally informed as to how to combat the poison, if bitten.

It is in tropical countries that the most dangerous snakes are found.

In our country the rattlesnake is a deadly enemy to man. But how seldom is this snake met with these days. It is in the late summer and early fall that we are apt to run across the snake that is dangerous. When the water dries in the hills and mountains they come down into the lowlands for water and food.

Recent researches made at Washington university, in St. Louis, seem to show that snake venom is the only poison in the world known to kill by affecting all the body at once. It seems to attack every living cell of the body like a poison gas.

In cases of snake bite, the purpose of any sort of local treatment which may be applied, is to prevent the poison from getting into the general blood supply. If not prevented from doing so the poison is carried to every part of the body by the blood stream.

If the foot or hand has been bitten, a ligature of some sort should be tied tightly around the limb, being careful to have it above the wound, or between the wound and the heart. A torn strip of a shirt or handkerchief may be used. Or a string, shoe lace, necktie, a piece of rope, a wire, a piece of grapevine or a flexible switch, is good for the purpose. Whatever you use, tie it firmly, after which a stick should be inserted under the ligature and tightly twisted. This stops the circulation of the blood from the wounded limb.

Then suck out the poison and wash the wound with soap and water if available. No harm will come from sucking the wound if the mouth is healthy and without broken tissues. If necess can be had to permanganate of potash crystals, these should be rubbed into the wound.

Keep the patient warm and administer small quantities of coffee to drink until the doctor arrives.

Various serums are used for snake bite, but these should only be used by a doctor. They may be had by telegraphing the New York zoological garden, or possibly through your local board of health.

In the northern and eastern portions of the United States, snake bites are rarely fatal. If you should happen to be bitten by a snake, do not worry yourself into a fever of fear. Quick action with the local treatment immediately on being bitten, together with the use of a serum, make it probable you will have little trouble.—Copyright, 1930, by Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.

Editorial Opinion.

A BETTER METHOD.

Word comes from Atlanta, birthplace of the present-day Ku Klux Klan, of the organization of the "American Fascisti," whose avowed purpose is combatting Communism in the South by a campaign of education to remove the causes. Black shirts have been adopted as official insignia.

Whether any considerable number of Americans can be persuaded to join the movement is doubtful. If they do, we can only hope they do not indulge in the excesses and lawlessness of the Klan, or attempt to ape the tactics of the Italian organization after which they are modeled.

The idea of checking Communism by removing cause is sound, and the South should be a fertile field for such endeavor. Wages in the newly-industrialized states of that area are pitifully inadequate, and a successful effort to raise them would probably do more than anything else to check Red leanings. Also, the new organization might end or limit child labor, which some southern states have insisted on retaining.

There is further opportunity in the eradication of illiteracy. If Communism is bad, and the American Fascisti are sure of it, the best way to confine it is through education which will enable the unschooled masses to think for themselves.—Columbus Citizen.

FACTS ABOUT GAS SITUATION.

Editor Star—There are a few facts that the Ohio Fuel Gas company has not made clear to the gas users of Marion. As their well-written advertisements and persuading solicitors would have us believe, the city council could settle this controversy in one night, but it would not be in the interest of the city. The Gas company has had five or six men make a house-to-house canvass getting signatures for the purpose of preventing and bringing pressure to bear on council. But is it fair to have the signatures of people living outside the city limits and on streets that do not have gas? In many cases the solicitors had father, mother and the children sign, making them believe that if they wanted work they should sign, asking council to give a franchise, and that the Gas company would give them work.

In their advertising, the Gas people say unless the franchise is settled we will not have enough gas for this winter. People have not forgotten this same old gag was used some years ago, and as soon as a higher franchise was given they began advertising an abundant supply of gas, both for homes and factories. If there is a shortage now, why did they extend the same line that supplies Marion on as far as Sandusky and several other towns north of Marion taking gas away from our city? These towns at the present time are well supplied with gas. If there is not enough gas, why should the Gas company consider supplying the village of Caledonia from the same line, which they are doing at the present time?

The Gas company claims that it is losing money by operating in Marion and that the increase in the rates would only mean the price of a two cent postage stamp per day to each user of gas—only a small amount as they would have the citizens believe. Why don't they tell the consumers what it amounts to in a year? With less money which the average citizen has on which to operate his business, it is vital for the welfare of the people of any community also to maintain the lowest possible rate on commodities they buy. We see no reason why we, the gas users of Marion, should pay approximately seven dollars more a year per user for gas when in our opinion the service does not warrant it.

The Gas company knew the condition in Marion, when it purchased the plant and the rights granted therein. If it were a losing proposition, why did they buy it? Conditions do not always appear as they exist. If some of the loopholes were brought to light, perhaps the Marion plant could show a profit. The price the Gas company says it is charged for gas is a high one. This price is forty-five cents. We have been told by men who know and understand gas that this price is excessive.

The Gas people tell us their wells are not producing as much gas as in former years. Perhaps if they would charge off some of their old wells, the same as manufacturers do with their old worn-out machinery and buildings, the wells might appear to be producing about the same as in former years.

We are now paying a much higher rate than when this controversy started. At that time they offered to sign a franchise for less than the present rate, but flatly refuse to even consider to do so now.

According to the higher officials of the Gas company, they would have us believe that we are keeping manufacturers away on account of the gas situation. Not many factories are expanding at the present time. The great majority of them are having trouble keeping the boilers and flues from rusting out for want of business. Should any company want to locate in Marion we are inclined to believe that a high gas rate like our water rate would do more to keep factories away than any two items they can name. Now do the citizens of Marion want the city council to give a franchise to a company that has openly stated that there is only one way the gas franchise can be settled in Marion and that is to settle it its way and no other? We think not. Council has refused to comply with the demands of the Gas company for that reason and has asked the state utilities commission to settle the rate. The time has come when increasing rates on public utilities must stop until such time when the consumer's dollar will buy more than it does now.

C. L. Merkel.

Twenty Years Ago.

It was Sunday, July 31.

The Gast-Landon families held their annual reunion at Lincoln park.

Daughters were born to Mr. and Mrs. John W. Higgins, of Silver street, and to Mr. and Mrs. Otto C. Clark, of east Church street.

Ludwig was given perfect support while that behind Hughes was far from good, and the batting being practically even, Portsmouth won from Marion, four to one.

The Marion Chautauqua closed with all expenses met. It was high-class throughout.

Business in the mayor's office was exceedingly brisk owing to more than an average run of cases of intoxication.

McIntyre at Doorn.

BY O. O. M'INTYRE.

Doorn, July 31—This is the sleepy Holland village that became conspicuous first page date-line when Kaiser Wilhelm suddenly gave up kaiserling to chop wood and grow pretty flowers. It sprawls about a small triangular park with a proud, ancient elm in its center. Circling the elm is a wooden bench.

Drowsing on the bench were village loafers gazing at passing motorists with that bland air of Dutch detachment so frequently mistaken for dumbness. Far off floated the dolorous zing, zoom, zing of a blacksmith anvil. Blue-bottle flies buzzed in the gutters of the cobbled street. Life had the scum of stagnation.

Yet Doorn was charged with something electric. The inhabitants have that tranquility of those who live on the edge of a crater. Every stranger is eyed as though secretly suspected of an important mission. Mysterious cars with goggled strangers whisk in and out from Germany. Doorn is always "expecting something."

In a brash moment I sent a note to the former kaiser's secretary asking for an audience with the royal exile. I had no credentials, as the trip here was a last moment whim. I could only refer them to their copy of "Who's Who in America." I did not expect a reply. It was a wild chance, impulsively taken.

The courier returned, however, with a courteous reply. The Kaiser Wilhelm and Kaiserin, as Holland knows them, had motored to a neighboring village to spend the day. This was later verified by a cafe waiter who had seen them pass. "He koom here for ein glass of bier sometimes," he added.

The reply invited members of the party to see the Kaiser's rosarium, a large garden adjoining his forested privacy. The rosarium is a triumph of floral culture with a background of linden trees. We passed the big tree with the white bench where the former kaiser has been seen in movie news reels.

After completing the rosarium, he presented it as his grateful gift to the village of Doorn for furnishing him his Holland refuge. He walks there daily with his little black dog. At eighty-one his step is firm. It is whispered that often in early hours with binoculars he gazes from a tower window toward the Fatherland. And sighs.

Huize Doorn, the estate of the ex-war lord, is a three-minute walk from the midtown square—a square with a cafe, seamstress, parlor, drugstore, tinsmith, bank and brick Lutheran church. Once the most hated man in the world, the former kaiser lives apparently unafraid. There are no high walls or embattled towers. Only a fragile wire netting surrounds his acres. He walks to the village alone. Children adore him, but they tell of a peaceful dog that growls savagely only at his car.

The entrance to the estate is through a modest brick lodge where a single and shabbily uniformed guard—who could double for Otto Kahn—drooped in a backless chair. Through the portals was the white house itself in vine-clad simplicity. The guard escorted us to a reception room in the lodge to sign a guest register. Most of the recent visitors were Germans, many of whom inscribed endearing sentiments. American signers were mostly from Hoboken.

Gossip in Doorn is the former kaiser has $15,000,000 left of his $150,000,000 fortune. But Germany smiles at that. Holland declares Wilhelm did not start the war, but was the scapegoat for the militarists. Here they say the chief resentment in Germany is because he left the front after the armistice for Doorn instead of facing the music at home.

Doorn is an aristocratic village, reminiful of Hastings-on-Hudson. Old residents resent curiosity seekers and have enclosed their homes behind high hedges. Guides are not permitted. The most prosperous establishment is a post card shop selling cards of the former kaiser and his home. There is always a waiting line. I sent a dozen myself. And such comical comment! You'd die laughing. Especially the one to Ed Nolan.

A feature of Doorn are side yard bird houses—an idea started by the former kaiser at Huize Doorn. A group of newspaper correspondents are here the entire year. It may ever might become a big dateline again.

We left Doorn to cross the border at Emmerich. Will Hogg and I got out to stretch our legs and in a few shakes of my dog's tail—if he had one—we were over the line in Germany.—Copyright, 1930, McNaught Syndicate, Inc.

Heat Wave To Last Till After Labor Day, Forecaster Asserts

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON July 31—Henry Inwrin Prowne whose long range weather forecasts have brought him into conflict with the weather bureau from time to time today said the present break in the heat was only temporary and there would be no definite end to the wave until after Labor day

Months ago Browne said he was convinced a sun spot cycle, coupled with a lunar cycle had destined that the summer of 1930 be hot and dry He said a perusal of weather records dating back through the centuries had convinced him unusually hot and dry summers come every 50 years Similar conditions to those of this summer prevailed in 1871 and in 1818 Browne said

The forecaster said the moon had traveled so far north it had pulled the waters of the Atlantic westward dragging with them the heat of the gulf stream under which the Mississippi valley has sweltered

Similar conditions he said prevailed in 1871 and 1818 when records kept in the middle west showed the Great Lakes had receded greatly Moon and sun conditions then were much the same as this summer

FAVORS NEW COUNTY HOME

Building Program Recommended in Public Welfare Investigator's Report.

Special To The Star

KENTON, July 31—Listing numerous recommendations for improvements at the Hardin County home, S. C. Griffin, special investigator for the Ohio department of public welfare, suggests the erection of a new home in his communication to the county commissioners.

"There is so great a deterioration in floors, walks and general equipment of the home and the entire arrangement of the building is so poorly adapted to its purposes that extensive improvements seem ill-advised," he said.

"A new county home is undoubtedly the best and most economical answer to this problem."

Continuing, his report contained high praise for the condition and upkeep of the Hardin county jail.

"From a social standpoint the Hardin county jail has for years excelled," he said.

Hemorrhoid Sufferers

Stop Pile Misery Without Cutting

Pile sufferers can only get quick, safe and lasting relief by removing the cause—bad blood circulation in the lower bowel. Cutting and salves can't do this—an internal remedy must be used. HEM-ROID, the prescription of Dr. J. S. Leonhardt, succeeds, because it removes this blood congestion and strengthens the affected parts.

HEM-ROID tablets as sold by druggists everywhere, have such a wonderful record for quick and lasting relief, that Henney & Cooper always sell them with guarantee of money back if they do not end all Pile suffering.—Adv.

Will Flower, trying six for two won the third heat of the race from Jim Direct in 2 09.

Governor Fred W. Green of Michigan was a guest of the Marion Driving Association during the afternoon's racing in which two of his strings of horses were entered. Peter Green with Charley Valentine driving, was the Governor's kid in the first event the 19 pace and although she failed to finish high up in the first two heats ended second in the third trip to the fourth money. His Mike Dillon was distanced in the second heat of the 15 class trot after finishing eighth in the first mile.

First Won by Mare

The day's opening event the 19 class pace, went to Miss Betty Grattan in straight heats. She was a rank outsider in the first heat paying six bucks for two but was even money in the second. Perry Chan led up to the final turn on the first heat but was outclassed by the Morrison mount. The second heat was a replica of the first with the favorite winning on the stretch.

Dorothy Mac who was distanced in the first heat but later given eighth place on a charge of reckless driving against one of the other horses ran a beautiful race to capture the third heat from Prince Mack and Peter Direct the favorites. Dorothy was the longest shot of the afternoon to come through paying 10 for every two invested.

Mahoney who had finished second in three of the first six races of the meeting finally got behind a winner in the 15 class trot and drove Donald Helwin to a straight heat win. Miss Eleanor Forbes won the third heat which was one of the closest races of the day. Senator Crawford led up to final turn where The Rush an added starter, took over the lead. However the latter broke on the stretch and Lacey shoved Miss Forbes in for second money. St. Guy edged in for second place and third money.

Was Ahead

This Becky Beal mare was just simply too good for the boys in the 12 pace. She ran pretty races in both heats, tearing off the opening mile in 2 08 and tying the record for the meeting, in the second heat of 2 07¾. The last mile of the 12 pace was almost a dead heat finish with Wild Flower just nosing out Jim Direct and Orchino Lad. Jule Hutzell came clear from Ft. Wayne to see the Lad come through but the son of Ho Madden was not in his best form. Star Hawk one of the favorites in all three heats finished 4 2 1.

In the only extra heat event of the afternoon Cora Potemkin captured the 2 15 claiming trot in the slowest times of the entire meeting. Dr. Marcy ended third in the first heat, second in the second and then won the third and fourth to take first money. Mickey The Great paid $ to 2 in winning the opening heat from Abe Harvester in a great race while The Harvester came down the stretch in the second heat with plenty to spare and won in a canter. In the third heat Forrest Watts who was quoted at 10 to – led clear down the final stretch only to allow Cora Potemkin to edge into the victory.

The races here will end today instead of Friday due to a lack of entries for the three year old trot billed as Friday's original feature. Five events are on deck this afternoon in addition to an exhibition mile by Winnipeg world's champion pacer who will try to crack the local track record of 2 03¼.

Here and There at The Races

THE first four event program drew a gratifying crowd present in contrast to the skimp attendance of the two opening days the grandstand was nearly full for Wednesday's program. There was a fairly good crowd present when Phillips called the horses out for the first heat of the day and the fans kept coming in until the second event was well under way. Today should see one big or perhaps even bigger.

Winnipeg's exhibition mile this afternoon, which is to be run if track conditions are favorable should also serve as a gala attraction of no mean ability. The paces is in top form and will perhaps crack the two year old mark of 2 03¼ set by Gamboa Hanover.

The presence of Governor Fred W. Green of Michigan at the races yesterday put a more or less official air in the surroundings. He got a great hand when Starter Phillips announced his presence together with the fact that Charley Valentine one of the grand old veterans of the track would pilot Pigue Green and Mike Dillon the governor's two entries. Peter got into the money but Mike was distanced.

We have yet to have a double first place winner as four new drivers copped off the big end of the purses yesterday. Morrison Mahoney, Mitchell and Caine were the race winners yesterday. Mahoney's win together with his three seconds puts him up among the top of the list.

Dorothy Mac an entry from the Latham stables in the 19 pace furnished the big surprise when she came through to cop the final heat of the race with the odd quoted at 10 to –. The funny part of it all was that she was distanced on the first heat but was allowed to keep on running due to interference from some other driver. She got a fifth in this second mile and was none to happy over that.

The official announcer got a big laugh when he informed the crowd that some gentleman or lady had left the motor in the Soft Air running, since the start of the first race. It must have been about 4 p. m. when he came out the sad news. Oh well what's the difference anyway.

It's been a most successful meeting probably the best in the history of the Short Stop circuit here. Exceptionally good times have been rung up in many of the races with a 2:04 for the mile stretch being the best so far. There have been a number under 2:10 and today's free for all trot may witness a new mark set for the local track in competition. Three events on for today. All good ones.

If the long shots keep coming through like they have in the first three days a record of some sort or other is going to be set. Two or three of the ponies have crashed through at odds ranging anywhere from 8 to 2 to 12 to 2 and anything may happen today.

Roundhouse Nine Spanks Electrics to Tune of 9-to-0

GROCERS, PROSPECT REMAIN IN DEADLOCK AFTER NINE INNINGS

Shoemaker Limits C., D. & M. Hitters to Four Bingles in Important Game.

The Roundhouse gained plenty of revenge for a previous defeat at the hands of the C. D. & M. outfit of baseballers when they plastered the Electrics with a 9 to 0 whitewash last evening at Garbell Park. One of the biggest crowds of the entire season saw the railroaders hop into a full game lead in the Industrial loop race. In a postponed Commercial league tilt the Sers U Wel Grocers and the Prospect Firemen continued their league games battles by wading through nine innings of weird play only to end up in a 10 to 10 deadlock. This makes 10 innings these two teams have played trying to finish up one game.

The Roundhouse nine hit Hap Appleyett hard and in addition he received some miserable support. On the other hand Shoemaker was displaying all the cunning of a Walter Johnson and the losers were doing exactly nothing with him. They collected a total of four hits two of these coming in the sixth from the bats of Appleyett and Wylie. The other two were credited to Larson and Koalla.

Start Early

The railroaders opened their attack on Appleyett in the first frame when Sammy Shurrock smacked one for four bases. Two hits in the second failed to produce a score but one hit in the third was made good for two runs so everybody was happy. Williams opened with a bingle to left. Everybody was safe on H. Lutter's bobble and Williams and Sharrock plated when W. Lutter muffed Robbins' hit for a hit. The winners went hitless in the fourth and fifth but three hits accounted for four tallies in the sixth. Wilson Hudkins and Shoemaker collaborated to in klon two more runs in the seventh.

Dumb baseball seemed to be the favorite as the Sers U Wels and Prospect managed to stagger through to their decision. Thanks to a five run splurge in the first and one for three more in the second the Grocery men were enjoying a 10 to 6 lead at the start of the seventh but out of it will an error and three hits the Firemen manufactured four scores and the game was tied never to be broken.

Too Bad

The Grocers lost a golden chance to win in the last of the eighth when Shields who already had one hit to his credit smacked one for the circuit but forgot to touch second base and Umpire Ric called him out and the game was once more tied. The Grocers were charged with seven hobbles while the Firemen committed five in reality, to the bood.

The score by innings:

Roundhouse	102 001 2—6
C. D. & M.	000 000 0—0

Shoemaker and Hudkins. Appleyett and Wylie.

Prospect	130 200 100—10
Sers U Wel	370 020 000—10

Lance and Johnson. Somerlot and Combs.

ROBBIE'S BOYS TRIM PITCHERLESS PHILS TWO TIMES IN DAY

A's Stretch American Lead to Seven Games as Grove Wins.

By International News Service

NEW YORK, July 31—If you try to run an automobile without gas or a ball team without pitchers the result is the same— the friction of our efforts merely bogs you down further in the mire.

So today found the pitcherless Phillies continuing their great losing streak and sunk to utter oblivion in the National league cellar with a new record slump of 11 straight defeats. Here's a team with almost the cream of the circuit's hitters as Klein leads the league and O'Doul hits as runner up and there's Thompson, Whitney and Hurst, good men and true hitters all. But like old Mother Hubbard there's nothing in the cupboard when it comes to Phillys hurlers. The last of the so-called flingers of the cellar champs Phil Collins went the way of all others yesterday outpitched by William Watson Clark as the scoring flock grabbed a double header 9-5 and 9-4. Clark was relief hurler for Moss in the opener and then turned the full nine innings in the latter.

Eat Freddie Fitzsimmons held Boston to eight hits and whaled a homer and two other bingle-bangles himself driving in three runs as the Giants copped 7 to 2.

Seven Games Ahead

The Athletics bounded out a full seven games in the American pilot lofty Grove lowering the Senators 7 to 1.

Lou Gehrig hit homer number 32 to win a 10 inning skirmish 8 to 2 for the Yankees over the Ruddy Sox of Boston. Pipgras won his first contest in almost a month subduing the Sox in the closing game 10 to 1.

Third baseman Ryan of the White Sox dropped Jolley's throw to lose a 10 inning battle to the Brownies 3 to 2 and St. Louis came right back and snatched the finale 6 to 1 with George Blaeholder limiting Chicago to eight well-spaced safeties.

Earl Whitehill won for Detroit 6 to 5 over Cleveland relieving Hoyt in the seventh and finning pinch hitter Jablonowski in a tough spot.

Haines blew up in the seventh and the Pirates tallied out a win over St. Louis 6 to 5.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

Dick Bartell Pirates—Drove in tying and winning run in eighth with a single in Cards game.

Fred Fitzsimmons Giants—Held Braves to eight hits and drove in 3 of Giants 7 runs with double and home run.

Lou Gehrig Yankees—Home run No. 32 led off Yanks six run rally in tenth against Red Sox.

Glenn Wright Robins—Hit safely six times in two games with Phillies.

Since 1918 the San Francisco club of the Pacific Coast league has sold $670,000 worth of players to the major leagues.

ARMOUR HALTS LEO DIEGEL'S OPEN REIGN

By The Associated Press

LANCASTER, Ont. July 31—Leo Diegel's two year reign over the Canadian open golf championship has ended and in the Agua Caliente professionals place has stepped Tommy Armour, great Scotch stylist.

Armour who won the title in 1927 and was runner-up twice dethroned the unorthodox Diegel yesterday in the pitch to play-off 148 strokes to 141. In the 72 hole championship proper which ended Saturday the two pros tied with scores of 277 after Armour had shot a sensational 64 on the last round and Diegel had turned in a brilliant 67.

Earlier five 18 holes yesterday the two pros took stroke for stroke ending the morning round all even with scores of 69. On the eleventh hole of the afternoon round Diegel faltered taking a seven on a par four hole while Armour was getting down in perfect figures. The three strokes gained here marked Armour's margin of victory.

Armour's play on the whole was much more consistent than his opponent the Seychelles stylist taking a 69 and Mrs. Dennis gave Mrs. Bachman strokes on the 18 holes.

Mrs. Bower reached the finals defeating Mrs. K. M. Bower 2 up. Mrs. Bower was forced to give seven strokes handicap on nine of play.

In the final match Mrs. Dennis was out in 50 and back in 53 while Mrs. Bachman required a 60 for the first nine and a 54 for the incoming nine.

MICKEY LOOKS GOOD

NEWARK, N. J. July 31—Admirers of Mickey Walker middleweight champion said he was back to his old form today. Mickey showed plenty of class last night when he knocked out Willie Oster Boston sailor who had been down three previous times in the same round.

FINALS PLAYED

Mrs. W. A. Dennis Wins Tourney at Country Club

Mrs. W. A. Dennis defeated Mrs. Paul Bachman one up in the match of the women's handicap tournament played at the Marion Country club yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Dennis gave Mrs. Bachman two strokes on the 18 holes.

Mrs. Bower reached the finals defeating Mrs. K. M. Bower 2 up. Mrs. Bower was forced to give seven strokes handicap on nine of play.

In the final match Mrs. Dennis was out in 50 and back in 53 while Mrs. Bachman required a 60 for the first nine and a 54 for the incoming nine.

OHIO DROUGHT CREATES CRISIS

Heavy Losses and High Prices Forecast If Dry Spell Continues.

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, O., July 31—Ohio is faced with heavy losses and attendant rise in commodity prices if the drought of the last three months continues, it was revealed today in a survey completed by the Cleveland Plain Dealer.

The northern half of the state has suffered much less than the southern, and an effort will be made by the Ohio Chamber of Commerce to help relieve conditions in the latter region. The chamber will meet in Columbus tomorrow to consider the means it will take.

The Plain Dealer said that a well informed Clevelander has advised that the hardship of some farmers is so great that the Red Cross should make a survey to determine necessary relief.

Started in May

The period of drought began in May when rainfall was almost one-half normal. In the first 30 days of July only 71 hundredths of an inch of rain fell in Cleveland while the normal is 3.35 inches.

Hard hit by the hot clear skies, scores of vegetable growers in the region west of Cleveland have rigged up water lines in moderately successful attempts at irrigation. Sources of supply have run low, and some ponds and streams have been pumped dry.

The northern Ohio grape crop is expected to be greatly reduced.

Corn, however, is the crop most seriously affected, and prospects are that many farmers will be feeding their livestock on wheat, the price of which is at a low level. The shortage of corn is expected to be felt in winter meat prices.

Hay Production Low

Some farmers are getting as little as a half load of hay from two acres, contrasted to a normal of six loads to the acre.

Pears intended for canning were being produced at a rate of only 10 per cent normal. Tomatoes from southern Ohio have not yet appeared on the market here, and neither have spinach, beets and other vegetables from that region.

Southern Ohio farmers by the thousands for weeks have been hauling water in barrels and tanks for their livestock. Many wells and springs, always depended upon for water, have run dry.

A shortage of milk is rapidly developing in Cleveland, where usually there is a surplus. Later this week a conference of milk dealers in the Pittsburgh area will be held to consider price adjustments, or rather, increases.

In many sections of the state, leaves have been falling off the trees and lawns are parched and almost dusty.

A German company has arranged to distribute liquid oxygen in specially constructed tank motor trucks.

STREET SUIT ENDS IN COURT

Decision in Main Street Paving Case Expected Within Few Days.

Decision of the court of appeals, third appellate district, in the city street paving case is expected to be made within a week, it was intimated today following the close of the hearing yesterday in common pleas court.

The case involved efforts of the city to have rescinded an injunction granted two weeks ago by common pleas court which ordered the city not to enter into a contract for the Main street paving job with P. Drake & Son, the firm which the city chose to do the improvement work.

The injunction was granted upon petition of Llewellyn L. Aller, lowest bidder for the work, who claimed the city abused its discretionary power in awarding the contract to the Drakes when the latters' bid was approximately $7,300 higher. Drake's bid was approximately $56,000, which did not include an $1,800 item in Aller's $59,500 proposal.

The city's defense in awarding the contract to Drake was based on Aller's alleged disreputability as a contractor, but testimony introduced in the lower court did not prove Aller to be disreputable, Judge George E. Seofield ruled. In carrying the case up, the city put new witnesses on the stand who attempted to justify the city's action.

Counsel for Aller yesterday pulled a surprise by placing Frank Wiedeman, former prosecuting attorney, on the stand to testify that an indictment against Aller several years ago which charged fraud on a road contract was nulled due to insufficient evidence. The indictment in question was the basis of much of the testimony against the contractor.

The hearing before the appellate court began Tuesday morning and was completed Wednesday afternoon. Judge Charles Justice of Marion, Judge Phil M. Crow of Kenton and Judge H. E. Gorling of Lima were on the bench.

A son was born at City hospital last night to Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Conarty of 187 South Seffner avenue.

Firemen Head Off Scheme To Attire Venus in Poison Ivy

Special To The Star

WINONA LAKE, Ind., July 31—The fire department has come to the rescue of the Venus De Milo, and a scheme to clothe the goddess' statue in poison ivy has been thwarted.

Mrs. Mary Schell Starr of Chicago, summering here, holds the opinion that the statue, which has been a figure of artistic pride for 20 years, should wear something. Yesterday the statue was moved to a location near the fire department, and the circumstance gave Mrs. Starr an opportunity to put her idea into action.

Poison ivy was planted around the base of the statue. Mrs Starr expressed the hope, according to the firemen, that the ivy grow and grow until finally that "indecent figure shall be all covered up."

The firemen, who are really art lovers at heart, decided to foil the scheme. They did not want to touch the ivy with their hands, so they turned the hose on it, rooting it up.

Police Chief Frank C. Edington, upholding the firemen, said Winona Lake is the home town of Billy Sunday, the evangelist, and that Sunday never had become publicly exercised about the statue.

"If it's O.K. with Billy, it's O.K. with me," the chief concluded.

NO INSTRUMENT NEEDED

The League for the Advancement of Music believes that every child should have a chance to develop musical skill. Many parents hesitate to purchase an instrument and pay for lessons unless they have some assurance that the child has talent. To give parents this opportunity and to stimulate interest in Musical Education, the League, in co-operation with the above conservatories of music, and through the courtesy of The Henry Ackerman Piano Co., is making this remarkable offer. No instrument is needed for these lessons as they are lessons of "instruction" rather than "correction." However for those pupils without instruments, who wish, practice rooms will be provided without charge.

HOW TO ENROLL

This precious opportunity is made possible by the League for the Advancement of Music, and the offer is made in accordance with its policy and as part of its national campaign—TO ENCOURAGE THE APPRECIATION and performance of music. Saturday. The Henry Ackerman Piano Co. has kindly granted space for registration at their store.

The Stars Say—

Saturday August 2

The sidereal operations for this day may be interrupted as of rather weak influence on human events The stress may be laid on domestic affectional social or artistic affairs with those businesses progressing which pertain to these spheres But even in these directions it would be wise to be very careful with the handling of money which is under a hazardous rule of fortune

Those whose birthday it is may anticipate a fairly progressive year but mainly in those affairs having to do with the artistic social feminine and home side of life The finances are not strong is expected therefore there is hazard in loans and in uncertain investments or speculation There may be other small annoyances anxieties or setbacks A child born on this day may be inclined to mix most society or the finer developments of life but may not be markedly successful financially It should however be agreeable and popular
